

THE IIDA NPC SPENCER DE MILLE TRAVELING FELLOWSHIP

The Spencer de Mille Traveling Fellowship was established with funds contributed by the IIDA Northern Pacific Chapter Knowledge Advancement Fund in honor of past president, Spencer de Mille. The fellowship is intended to support foreign travel undertaken to research new and innovative practices related to the built environment that will further the recipient's career goals and could have positive implications for the communities of the Pacific Northwest.

ELIGIBILITY

- Applications are accepted from individuals who have been a Member of the IIDA Northern Pacific Chapter for three (3) consecutive years or more.
- Applicants can be of any IIDA membership category, so long as that membership remains in good standing.
- If the proposed travel will be done through an established program (such as Habitat for Humanity or similar), the proposal must reflect applicant's personal research objectives independent of the program objectives.
- Current IIDA NPC Board members are ineligible to apply.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

- Completed Applicant Information form (attached)
- An 800-word proposal describing your objective for the trip, its relationship to your current work/career goals and its relevance to the greater Pacific Northwest community.
- Two (2) letters of reference from an employer, former teacher, or colleague in support of proposal.
- An itinerary, including approximate travel dates
- An estimated budget

AWARD

One fellowship award of $5,000 may be awarded every 2 years, to the most qualified applicant, as deemed acceptable to the review committee. Applications will be due in the spring of every other year. The Award announcement will be made within one month of application deadline. The award will be disbursed prior to the recipient's need to confirm travel arrangements.

REAL TIME REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Traveler will have 12 months from the date of the award to complete the travel. Traveler will be expected to post a minimum of (5) real time blog entries or podcasts (with relevant photographs and/or sketches) to an online media outlet of their choosing, as pre-approved by the Chapter.

POST TRAVEL REQUIREMENTS

Upon completion of travel, the recipient of the award must provide a full written dissertation of the experience with supporting photographic and/or sketch documentation. Recipient will also be required to make an in-person presentation to the IIDA membership and the local design community. This presentation may be recorded and/or live-streamed to the chapter's members. The final deliverable should include:

- Brief explanation of the goals of the research trip, and its personal relevance to the traveler
- Outline of experiences, progress and conclusions
- Description of how the resulting knowledge could have a positive impact on the design practice in the Pacific Northwest.

SELECTION

The IIDA Northern Pacific Chapter has sole authority for granting the award. A jury will determine the recipient and their decision will be final. IIDA reserves the right to withhold the award if no applicants meet the criteria. All applications and supporting material become the property of the IIDA Northern Pacific Chapter.
